

Get Involved

Sustainable finance is about aligning our financial decisions to our personal values, concerns, and aspirations, in line with the sustainable development goals. It may seem distant at first, but here are some simple actions that you can undertake to be part of the change.

Do you know that your voice can be heard so you can help advance the sustainable finance agenda to reach the Sustainable Development Goals?

Regulations and policies are a cornerstone for the development of sustainable finance practices. The UN PRI monitor their evolution in its program “The Inevitable Policy Response”, concerning five key topics: (1) corporate ESG disclosures; (2) stewardship (3) investors’ duties to incorporate ESG considerations; (4) national/regional sustainable finance strategies, and (5) taxonomies of sustainable economic activities.

In Europe, the “Sustainable Finance Action Plan” is redefining the framework of the financial sector, and supports the “Green Deal” investment project for the economic recovery of the continent.

The work of NGOs is essential to influence the industry and to increase the visibility of the topic. For example, you can discover the work of 2Dii, WWF, BetterFinance, ShareAction, Oxfam, Reclaim Finance.

It's up to you!

For the fifth and final mission, we invite you to discover as much as you can about sustainable finance and stay updated on the topic to be able to influence its future development:
